Climbing Walls

Mount Avalanche Climbing Wall

It's 28 feet, straight up the rock. This rock climb has eye appeal from its size (35 feet in total height) and its impressive snow-themed artwork. 2 participants compete against each other or themselves. Unlike other inflatable rock walls, the participants are not climbing foam blocks. Instead, this inflatable unit has actual hand-holds that you would find on a hard surface wall. Also, unlike other inflated units, this has an auto-belay system for safety. Our wall has a comparable climb to hard surface walls with the bonus of a great visual. As with all of our walls, this unit comes with speed harnesses for greater throughput.

Due to the high number of anchor points on this unit, there will be an additional 10% surcharge on the list price if the setup is on a surface requiring sandbags/water anchors. A location in which we can utilize stakes is recommended to avoid surcharge.
